Financial Crash Coming.

The great financial crash will certainly take place next next year. Congress may strive to stave it off until after the next Presidential election, but a power higher than Congress has decreed that it must be. Every year terminating with a Seven, since the foundation of our Government, has witnessed a financial revulsion, and all the signs indicate that 1867 can be no exception.

In 1797, we had the grand monetary crash and practical obliteration of the Continental Currency.

In 1807, we had another crash, variously accounted for, but probably growing out of the troubled state of affairs in France and the increasing imminence of a war between England and the United States.

In 1817, we had another financial revulsion or earthquake, unquestionably left to us as a legacy by the war of 1812-13 with England.

In 1827, there was another monetary crisis, accompanied with a commercial panic, for particulars of which we must refer to the venerable Peter Goelet, at the corner of Nineteenth street and Broadway, and also to Mr. James Gordon Bennett, of the Herald, whose "young Jamie is on the stormy sea."

In 1837, we had the grand smash of smashes, resulting from the failure of the pet banking-system of President Andrew Jackson and his successor, Martin Van Buren; and this was the worst smash we have ever had.

In 1847, we had again a very stringent money market, accompanied by wide-spread and enormous failures, attributed by some to the famine throughout Europe, but more especially in Ireland; as also to the enormous railroad failures which occurred in England under the sway of King Hudson.

So much for the past, and now for the coming crash of 1867, the year upon which we are about to enter. That, in the natural order of things, there should be a crash next year, all persons who have paid any attention to the subject must admit—a crash following the excited period and inflated prices of our recent civil war, and also partly due to the enormous overtrading and speculative manias under which Wall street has recently labored.

It is claimed that Congress can make arrangements to tide over any financial crisis until after the next Presidential election, by issuing fresh floods of legal-tender paper and all classes of fractional currency; but this we do not believe. The laws of trade are superior to the laws of politics; and there would seem to be a fatality in every year terminating with the figure "7," which no temporizing legislation can stave off or evade. For further information upon this subject apply to Messrs. A. T. Stewart, James Gordon Bennett and Peter Goelet—three high monetary authorities of large and varied experience, who know more about such matters in half an hour than the average of newspaper editors and newspaper readers can coach up in half a year of hard study.—New York Citizen.

RAILROADS.—The Colorado Register, of the 4th of January, learns from private letters that the timbers for a railroad bridge across the Missouri, a little below Wyandotte, Kansas, are being hauled to the spot. The design is to connect the Pacific road with the Hannibal & St. Joseph road. This connecting branch was nearly completed last summer. From the same source we learn that the work has been actually commenced on the road leading south from Kansas City to Fort Scott, and thence to Galveston. We published yesterday the announcement of the completion of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad to a point twenty-two miles above Council Bluffs. The route of this road lies thence down the river bottoms, and can be rapidly and easily constructed to the point where the bridge over the Missouri River is to be built. A few weeks, at the farthest, will see the work completed, and thus connect the broken links of our communication after the Pacific road has once been reached. The contract for laying three hundred miles of the Pacific Railroad track, commencing at the North Platte and coming this way, has been given to one man. It is to be laid next summer, and is probably the largest contract ever taken by any one man. It is undoubtedly the shortest time in which so much work was ever stipulated to be done. This three hundred miles will reach to the point where Pole Creek comes from the mountains. The Western Transportation Company go from Denver to North Platte in three days, and carry passengers through in that time.

INDIAN FIGHT IN IDAHO.—From the Owyhee Avalanche of the 5th we obtain the following:

Boise City, Jan. 1, 1867.

Friend Brewster—Sir: I have just returned from an Indian hunt with General Crook—an old acquaintance of mine—and had a good time killing Indians. We found Wells, Fargo & Co.'s bag that was taken when Wilcox was killed. We killed thirty Indians and captured the same number of horses. Big Foot made his escape, but we got Little Foot and the Gray Horse. * * * The General has not come up, but is waiting for supplies.

SENORA HICKS.

We have heard from many sources the substance of the above letter, and there is no doubt of its truth, though particulars have not been received. The battle was fought on the Owyhee river, about twenty miles west of Camp Lyon. The time of it we cannot learn, but it must have been about one week ago. Every Indian that mounted a horse was killed, only a few escaped on foot among the bushes and rocks. A large quantity of Indian stores were destroyed and thirty horses captured. General Crook has sent to Fort Boise for more supplies and all the spare troops, and stays in the field and don't wear out his men and animals and fritter away his time in running back and forth.

GRUMBLING EDITOR.—The editor of the Santa Cruz Sentinel is in a bad humor. Hear his growl: The rain storm continues with unabated fury. Mud is King, and we are his unwilling subjects. Wood is scarce, our boat is afloat, the bridge is gone, and our jug is empty, and the river is rising. No mails—no news—no sunshine—no cash—no nothing. No hab got how can do—no shabbe, John. So we pass the time in a friendly growl with the Consolidated Bumming and Gassing Association, and other stove sharps, at the bad roads, failure of the mails, and bad luck in the little recreations for "hot toddies," known as "draw," "muggins," "old sledge," "euchre," and other examplifications of the sporting art which send the money to ruin and a few to Congress—vide the success of John Morrissey, Esq.

Salt Lake City, November [illegible], 1866.

The Polygamic Memorial.

Yesterday [illegible] we stated that the Legislature of Utah had unanimously adopted a Memorial to Congress praying the repeal of the Anti-Polygamy law. Not having seen the document itself before our article on the subject was written, we were not able to say on what grounds it was based. In another column we present it (as we find it in the Daily Telegraph) in full. It contains a great many whereas-es, which embody the reasons and the arguments which the Legislature is willing to submit why Utah should be relieved of the restrictions of the Act in question.

The first whereas proclaims that upwards of fourteen years ago polygamy was publicly proclaimed and adopted as a tenet of the Church. However this may be, we think it would not be difficult to show that long since that day it was publicly and persistently denied and disavowed. We are reliably informed that when the Federal officials were driven or scared out of the Territory in 1852, and proceeded to Washington to lay their complaints before the President, they were met by Jedediah M. Grant (one of the Twelve), who denounced as slander and misrepresentation the charge that plurality was practiced. Even at this day, we are told that this peculiar part of the dogmas of the Church is not unfolded to its proselytes in Europe, until they are well on their way across the plains. It is only within a few years that the Church leaders have become bold enough to brave public opinion on this subject, and openly avow and defend plurality as a divine institution.

"Great prejudice," we are told in the third whereas, "has been created against the people of this Territory, by the continued misrepresentations to which they have been subject because of the unpopularity of this doctrine of their faith." These so-called misrepresentations, we suppose, consist in the statement of the fact, that one man takes as many wives as he chooses, sometimes "marries" three or more sisters, sometimes mother and daughter, and in one notable case, is sealed to his own half sister, under the sanction and by virtue of this divine institution! Opposition to a system condemned by the whole civilized world, and throughout Christendom punished by the highest penalties, is mildly termed "prejudice," and the moral sense of mankind which condemns the practice is called "unpopularity"!

The fourth whereas modestly informs Congress that its predecessor in 1862 was the victim of these "prejudices and misrepresentations," and under their influence enacted the Anti-Polygamic law, "expressly designing to restrict the said Church in its religious rights"!

But the fifth rather caps the climax of assurance. "The Judiciary of this Territory has not up to the present time tried any case under said law, though repeatedly urged to do so by those who have been anxious to test its Constitutionality." With regard to the first branch of this proposition, the Legislature need not be told why the Judiciary have not attempted to enforce the law of the land. They understand that as thoroughly as does every resident of Utah. If Brigham Young would permit a Grand Jury to indict or a petit jury to try, without a forcible resistance to the process of the Court, a trial would be the merest farce in the world. The Legislature knows, as well as other citizens, that a Mormon jury, who are taught and sworn to uphold polygamy as a part of their religious faith, would never convict any Mormon for plurality, however clear and unmistakable might be the evidence of bigamy. The Judges under such circumstances have not chosen to draggle their ermine in the mire and indulge in any such Quixotic attempt to try the force of the law against Polygamy. With regard to the latter part of the whereas, who does not remember when Brigham Young, in 1863, (laboring under a wholesome though unfounded dread of arrest by the military authorities,) procured his friend Chief Justice Kinney to arrest and hold him to bail for violation of the Anti-Polygamy law? And who does not remember, that the Grand Jury (acting under the dictation of these leaders, who say they have been anxious to test the Constitutionality of the law,) ignored the bill against Brigham, and in its stead presented the Governor of the Territory as a nuisance, for having dared to condemn plurality in his annual message. Brigham then was a blushing bridegroom, having just violated the law and taken to himself his then last wife, whether No. 45 or 46 we are not reliably informed. Then was presented a fine opportunity "to test the Constitutionality" of the law, before a Judge as obedient to his behests as the veriest Mormon of them all, if he had only permitted the Grand Jury to bring in a bill.

The only efficacy which has been given, or possible to have been given to the law, has been in the refusal of U. S. Judges Titus, Drake and McCurdy to naturalize any person who has violated the law of Congress. Here also has been presented another opportunity to "test the Constitutionality" of the Act. Why have not these anxious individuals appealed from these rulings of the District Courts to the Territorial Supreme Court, and then carried the case to the United States Supreme Court at Washington? We suspect the Legislature has been fooled by somebody, or else it is trying to get the law repealed under false pretences. We have some acquaintance with the Federal Judiciary, and if anybody has ever urged any of the Judges to "try a case under said law," we have never heard of it.

But we have exhausted the limits of a single article, and must leave the balance of this unique document to our readers, and the future.

BY PACIFIC TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE "DAILY UNION VEDETTE."]

Washington, January 12.

House—A bill was introduced to pay the reward offered by the President for the capture of Jeff. Davis. Referred to Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. Clark, of Kansas, introduced a bill to secure the speedy completion of the Southern Pacific Railroad. Referred to Committee on Pacific Railroad.

Mr. Paine, of Wisconsin, introduced a resolution declaring the principle of the American Government was to protect American interests, but if Congress was compelled to allow free trade in agricultural products it was but just that the precepts of free trade should apply to manufactures. Referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

Washington, January 12.

The Territorial Committee have agreed to report Ashley's bill establishing territorial governments in the South.

The gunboat Swartara, with Surratt, is expected in ten days.

Fort Laramie, January 12.

The mail from here to Fort Phil Kearney was attacked yesterday by about thirty Indians. The party escaped with the loss of the wagon and mules. Up to the 4th inst. no more Indian demonstrations occurred in the vicinity of Fort Phil Kearney. Two companies of cavalry and four of infantry have been sent to Fort Reno and will probably go on to Fort Phil Kearney. The 30th infantry are en route here. All the companies of the 2d cavalry are concentrating here rapidly.

Washington, January 12.

Senator Sumner and Representative Ashley received a dispatch signed by 200 colored citizens of Colorado, asking admission as a State under Edmund's amendment.

The District Supreme Court affirmed the judgment in the Criminal Court, overruling the demurrer, in the case of Sanderford Conover for perjury, before the House Committee on Judiciary, of the investigation question in the complicity of Jeff. Davis in the assassination conspiracy.

London, January 13.

The Globe editorially says the eastern question has become so pressing that it demands immediate attention of the European powers. The Globe thinks a conference of the leading powers will be proposed on the subject.

Report says an insurrection is on the point of breaking out in Basnia.

New Orleans, January 13.

A courier direct from Europe, via New York, left here to-day in the steamship Mexico for Vera Cruz. He bears a letter from Francis Joseph to Maximilian. It is surmised that the letter relates to a reconciliation between them.

New York, January 13.

A daring robbery was perpetrated yesterday in the exchange place. A package, containing over ten thousand dollars in gold certificates and treasury notes, was snatched from the porter of Marun [illegible] Maas & Co. No clue to the thief.

Edward H. Weylan, clerk, and late in the employment of the Erie Railroad Company, is alleged to have decamped after embezzling about $30,000 of the Company's funds. It is alleged the fugitive was intrusted with the preparation of the Company's pay-rolls, and the frauds are said to have been committed by placing fictitious names on the laborers' roll.

Since last Thursday the United States Revenue authorities in Brooklyn have seized nine more whiskey distilleries in working order, with all the apparatus, and over eight hundred barrels of whisky.

A Washington dispatch to the Herald says it has good authority for saying that the House Judiciary Committee, after a careful examination, have come to the conclusion that there is not sufficient ground upon which to base the bill for impeachment.

Additional cable:

London, January 13.

A report from Madrid states that Garibaldi had gone to Candia.

Paris, January 13.

Dispatches from the East report a ministerial crisis at Constantinople, and that Parte has recalled the Embassador from Athens. It is also reported that a large number of reinforcements for the Greek insurgents landed in Candia from Greek ships, and the Cretans receiving a supply of arms.

The Czar and members of the Imperial Court were present at the ball [illegible] aid of the suffering families [illegible]

A strong effort is [illegible] to secure aid from Congress to construct a Pacific Railroad from a point [illegible] Mexico by an air line [illegible] said [illegible] hundred and [illegible] the Pacific Coast [illegible] capitalists has [illegible] Ex-Governor A. [illegible] of Southern loyal [illegible] to introduce a bill at an early day to [illegible] their ideas. These gentlemen claim that the annual Government expenditures along the line of their [illegible] for military purposes, are [illegible] and the lands thus created loaned to [illegible] as the work progresses, the arrangement will give the country the required road.

New York, January 13.

A Washington telegram says the House Committee agreed to report a bill for the new governments for Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, and Texas. It first declares void the old laws made by the governments in force in those States, and then proposes that all male persons above the ages of 21, who can take the oath of loyalty, shall be allowed to vote for delegates for a convention. When the convention meets, and if it decides to accept the terms proposed by Congress, it is proposed to select what is called a Provisional Committee of five citizens distinguished for their loyalty to the Union. This Committee is to act as one of public safety until the Constitution of the State is formed, which they are authorized to inaugurate. The convention thus called can then elect provisional State officers, and form State Constitutions irrevocable, without the consent of Congress. Universal suffrage, prohibition of distinction on account of race or color, insists on the repudiation of the Rebel debt and disfranchisement, are all to be provided for in the State Constitution. If the State shall at any future time attempt to dissolve relations with the Federal Government its representation in Congress is to cease, and the latter is not to do anything inconsistent with the rules of civilized warfare to protect loyal people. If Congress accepts the new Constitution, the State is to be entitled to representation. The Committe will urge the bill as a substitute for Stevens' measure.

New Orleans, January 13.

The United States Grand Jury failed to find an indictment against any persons concerned in the July riots. O. H. Morgan, the United States District Attorney, when the Jury was impannelled, declined to apply the test oath to the Jurors.

Baltimore, January 13.

Many members of the Legislature are here to-day, and much interest is manifested about the United States Senator election. Chances are all in favor of Governor Swan.

New York, January 13.

The steamship City of Baltimore, which got aground on the southwest spit on Saturday afternoon, was pulled off at high water the same night, and proceeded immediately to sea.

Ottowa, C. W., January 13.

There is a telegraphic dispatch by the cable to the effect that the Confederation Delegates of England, decided by a majority to remove the Capitol of the Confederation from Ottowa to Quebec.

New York, January 14.

A Richmond dispatch says the freedmen are almost all unwilling to work by contract during present year. This is also the case in most of the Southern States. Laborers are preparing to share in the crop.

The Herald's Havana correspondent, of the 7th, says the whole capital of Banco Espagnd has been disposed of, and one million three hundred and seventy thousand dollars over and above it. There are two million in circulation besides. The people entertain strong hopes of a financial future of the Island, and many predict a general bankruptcy.

The Tribune's Washington special says the Government has received information from Vera Cruz that several transports had already arrived, and that the French troops had commenced embarking. There are twenty-four large transports, which will be sufficient to remove all troops. It is expected that all will have embarked by the first of March.

The Tribune's special says on Tuesday Mr. Stevens will call up his Enabling Act, and will endeavor to press it to a vote on Wednesday.

Petitions have been received from a large number of loyalists in the South, which say that they prefer this bill to that proposed by Governor Holden and Mr. Pool.

On Tuesday, Mr. Ashley will present it, and agreed upon by the Territorial Committee as a substitute for Mr. Stevens' bill.

NEW YORK POLITICS.—The New York Citizen of the 29th ult. says:

For Senator of the United States the candidates at present most talked of are Judge Ira Harris, the present Senator, and Hon. Roscoe Conkling. Horace Greeley is regarded as having defeated himself by his recent manifesto, when nothing else could possibly have defeated him; but we yet cling to some faint hope that the chances of the Philosopher may obtain a happy and early resurrection.

A powerful minority—soon, perhaps, to become a majority—are working tooth and nail for the elevation of Judges Henry E. Davies or John K. Porter from the Court of Appeals to the National Senate. Next to Greeley, we hope that Judge Davies may be successful, for he is a powerful, honest and fearless gentleman, who could not fail to secure for our State its just ascendancy in the council of the nation—a thing it has too long lacked.

Of other candidates we may briefly mention Judge Noah Davis, of Orleans county, who has many active friends, and more especially among our ex-military Radicals; and also Judge Balcombe, of Binghamton, upon whose shoulders it is claimed that the mantle of the late Daniel S. Dickinson has descended.

Canal Commissioner F. A. Alberger is also pressed by many active friends in the contracting interest; while Senator Charles J. Folger, of Geneva, is universally admitted to be one of the candidates most capable of filling and adorning such a post.

Judge James C. Smith, of Ontario, is also named, and Judge Hurlbut, the present member of Congress from St. Lawrence; but we can find out nothing as to their probable chances—the same being true, likewise, of Judge James of the Supreme Court, who, nevertheless, has some friends pushing his [illegible] the best "compromise man" to be named [illegible] neither Harris nor Conkling taken up in case [illegible] can secure the requisite majority.

For President, the Radicals at Albany name the following candidates, but as yet with no definitive or settled purpose: General John A. Logan and Governor Dick Yates, of Illinois; Judge Salmon P. Chase, of Ohio, and General Benjamin F. Butler, of Massachusetts; Generals Ulysses S. Grant and Phil. Sheridan, of the Regular Army; General Geo. H. Thomas (as a representative "mean white" from the South), and Speaker Colfax, of the House of Representatives, whose friends are to-day more active in laying pipe for this happy consummation than the friends of any other candidate now before the people.

WE see by the St. Joseph papers that the formal opening of their street railway took place on Christmas. The capital stock of the company is $300,000. The track is two miles long, with handsome cars, with all the modern improvements.

THE most astonishing sentence in the English language, at least for its great length, is probably the seventh section of the British Foreign Enlistment Act, which is composed of a single sentence containing very nearly six hundred words.

The Memorial

To Congress [illegible] the Act entitled "An Act to punish and prevent the practice of Polygamy in the Territories of the United States and [illegible]

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled:

Your Memorialists, the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Utah, respectfully represent:

That upwards of fourteen years ago the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints did publicly proclaim its belief in the doctrine of plurality of wives as being of divine origin, and

Whereas, this doctrine has been adopted not for lustful purposes, but from conscientious motives and as a portion of religious faith, and

Whereas, great prejudice has been created in the public mind against the people of this Territory, by the continued misrepresentations to which they have been subject, because of the unpopularity of this doctrine of their faith, the existence of which prejudice the people of the Territory have deplored and exerted themselves to the uttermost to remove, and

Whereas, under the influence of these prejudices and misrepresentations, as we believe, Congress, in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-two, did pass an Act, entitled "An Act to Punish and Prevent the practice of Polygamy in the territories of the United States," etc., expressly designing to restrict the said Church in its religious rights, and

Whereas, the judiciary of this Territory has not, up to the present time, tried any case under said law, though repeatedly urged to do so by those who have been anxious to test its constitutionality, and

Whereas, the Judges of the District Courts of this Territory have felt themselves obliged by said Act to refuse naturalization papers to certain applicants, and

Whereas, your Memorialists having ever been the firm and loyal supporters of the Constitution of the United States, and profoundly valuing its provisions and guarantees, and believing, moreover, that the said Law is contrary to the spirit of the Constitution, and directly in conflict with the first Amendment, which states that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," and

Whereas, plurality of wives as an article of religious belief was believed and practiced upwards of ten years before the passage of the Act of Crongress prohibiting Polygamy, and

Whereas, our Territory, as the fruit of plural marriages, has enjoyed an unexampled immunity from the vice of prostitution and its kindred evils, and

Whereas, said Act, besides being a direct invasion of the people's rights, and in conflict with the first Amendment to the Constitution, is ex post facto,

Therefore, We, your Memorialists, respectfully ask your Honorable Body, for the reasons briefly stated, to repeal the prohibitory provisions of said Act, and to leave the people of this Territory free to exercise their religion and its ordinances as guaranteed by the Constitution; believing that in so doing, you will best promote the peace and welfare of the country and frown down the insidious attempts which are being made to array the inhabitants of one section against those of another because of differences in religious belief, and your Memorialists as in duty bound will ever pray.

A NEW FIRE ENGINE.—A new fire engine was recently tested in Detroit. It is called "L'Extinctaur," or extinguisher, being a French invention. It consists of a cylindrical metal vessel of from six to ten inches in diameter, and from two to three feet in height, and will hold from two and a half gallons of liquid to ten. At the bottom of the vessel is a stop-cock, with a small india rubber tube and nozzle attached, capable of throwing a stream scarcely as thick as an ordinary goose-quill. In the vessel is a liquid which contains within itself the power of instantaneously extinguishing any combustion with which it may come in contact. It is portable and may be carried, strapped to a man's back. Any one can make use of it. It was considered a success. If so, it will create a new era in the fire departments throughout all creation.—New York Citizen.

Here is a chance for the authorities of this city to procure an extinguisher of fires that will not cost a great deal for transportation.

The Daily Union Vedette

Local and Miscellaneous.

ADVERTISING.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in every mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, (which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole day ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four Territories.

BLUE MONDAY.—Yesterday was indeed a regular "blue Monday," whether it was in consequence of the inability for patrons of the "bar," we mean a "saloon bar," to obtain their usual allowance of beverages on Sunday, and it kept them busy to make up for lost time, or whether it was caused by the seriousness of mind resulting from the influences of the religious teachings of the Sabbath, we will not venture to say, but we do know that we traveled through the town in search of an item, but failed in every effort, and was necessarily thrown back on the resources of our exchanges, which we found to contain so much matter of interest that we are confident our readers will be more pleased than if we had to record the loss of property, murder, assassination, or any of these incidents which harrow the feelings of those whose sympathies are on the side of humanity. The town was, we must admit, most disgustingly quiet; no fight, for everybody was sober and passive.

CHANGEABLE.—Thaw and freeze, freeze and thaw visit us alternately each morning and evening. The weather is very changeable, freezing at night and thawing during the day; giving us snow in the evening and mud during the day, sleighing at night, bog-trotting during the day. Warm and cold, cold and warm—somebody pleased and displeased every twenty-four hours. We would prefer a little more consistency in the weather, yet we will not growl or grumble, but be satisfied with what is sent us, confident that it is better than we deserve. It also furnishes an item."

ANOTHER TACK.—We did not attend the Tabernacle on Sunday, but are informed by one that was present, that Brigham Young pitched into some of the Mormon merchants over the coals, berating them for their exorbitant prices, which extorted the hard-earned money from the poor. He said he was determined that while he was engaged in washing one side of the platter, he would see that the other side was kept clean. He did not "mince" matters, for he named some parties, whom he charged with having acted against his wishes and the interests of the people. There may be some good in Nazareth yet.

TARDY JUSTICE.—The Enterprise of the 9th says that by reason of the expiration of the first term of Judge Lewis' occupancy of the Bench, Judge Beatty became on Monday according to law, Chief Justice of the Supreme Bench of Nevada.

WANTED.—Cash paid for old door and padlocks, keys, etc., at J. R. Sumner's second hand store. 4t

Arrivals and Departures.

From the East—A. Tabor, W. J. Clark, A. A. ..., A. J. Selover, S. Selover, Frank Wheeler, ...o. H. Swartz, Mr. Gale, O. H. Coggswell.

From the North—O. H. Coggswell, D. A. ..., C. L. Gates, S. C. Boille.

INAUGURATED.—The inauguration ceremonies of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor of Nevada, took place at Carson on Tuesday, the 8th inst. Governor Blasdel, in his inaugural address, gives an extended review of the political affairs of the country and of the prosperous condition of Nevada. He said: "In this connection, I can but justify and approve the section and policy of the late Congress, while I regretfully disapprove that of the President. The former, prompted by a sense of fidelity to principle and patriotic devotion to the whole country, earnestly endeavored to re-unite it upon terms just and honorable to all. The latter, seeming to forget that he was the immediate representative of the people, having the right to devise and adopt measures other than such as he might approve or personally approve, vainly endeavoring to thwart the will of the people, by immediate restoration of treason to power, without the exaction of sufficient guarantees for the future security of the Republic. But Congress, with firmness, maintained its legitimate prerogative; carried out the policy to the extent of its authority, and the results of the late elections show that the people—the final arbiters between them—have decided against the theories of the President, and ratified the views of Congress. I have faith in the Congress of the people. I believe they will complete the work so nobly begun. I believe they will reconstruct these dissevered States upon a broader and more permanent basis, reunite the people by ties of closer union and more enduring friendship, and restore the Union with more than its former glory and splendor, upon principles of universal liberty, Justice and Humanity."

The Enterprise adds: In this respect Congress may rest assured that these are the sentiments of the people of Nevada, and it is proper that they should find expression through the Executive.

MORMONS IN STOCKTON.—While a religious revival for a number of weeks past has been going on in our city, says the Stockton, Cal., ..., in which a large number have been induced to turn from "evil doings," it will be news to not a few that the Mormons have been as readily at work, and with success. On Monday, the last of the year just passed, ... persons were baptized in Mormon slough, into the Mormon faith. Every Sunday, Mormon preaching is held near Mormon slough, in the northeast portion of our citizen. ... the name of the Mormon preacher ... meeting with such success in gaining ...

THE INDIAN FIGHT.—The Denver Gazette, says:

Col. Carrington, who was in command at Fort Phil Kearney, at the recent massacre, has been relieved and will be ordered under arrest, for trial, on charges of carelessness, in the performance of his duty. It seems that the detachment was cut off from all chances of return to the fort and overpowered. It is claimed that Carrington could have prevented this.

... is now delivered from Omaha to ... for one and a-half cents a pound. ... Transportation Company are ... deliver goods from that point to ... five days, for five cents per pound.

... Santa Fe Stage Company have established new stations on the Arkansas ... hereafter will run coaches from ... City, Kansas, to Santa Fe in seven days.

DIVIDEND DECLARED.—The Yellow Jacket Company yesterday morning declared a dividend of $50 on each and every share of the capital stock of the company. Good to ... Enterprise, Jan. 9.
